Tuesday, February 13, 2018 (Part 2)
Friday, March 2, 2018 (Part 3)

R.G. Drage, 2800 Richville Dr. SE, - Classrooms D-E – Massillon, OH
Time: Registration 8 a.m. Workshop 8:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Searching for strategies that can be used to increase student achievement in language arts? How do you push the students you have that are already achieving at a high level? How do you increase depth and complexity when you design instruction? How does Webb's Depth of Knowledge apply to instruction in your classroom? How do you implement cognitive rigor in your classroom?

Join Barb Cockroft, SST 9 Consultant, for a FREE 3-day workshop. Take a deep dive into Webb's Depth of Knowledge and Hess' Cognitive Rigor Matrices. Walk away with information and strategies you can use to adapt instruction in your classroom to meet the needs of all learners. Barb has more than thirty-five years of classroom experience as a 7th and 8th grade language arts teacher on which to base her expertise, including 17 years of teaching reading and writing to gifted students.

This professional learning experience, sponsored by SST9 and the Stark County ESC, will meet the following competencies as described in OAC 3301-51-15 Operating standards for identifying and serving students who are gifted: (18 Gifted PD Hours)

- The ability to differentiate instruction based on a student's readiness, knowledge and skill level, including using accelerated content, complexity, depth, challenge, creativity and abstractness
- The ability to provide an extension or replacement of the general education curricula, to modify the learning process through strategies such as curriculum compacting, and to select alternative assignments and projects based on individual student needs
- The ability to select, use, and interpret technically sound formal and informal assessments for the purpose of academic decision making

One (1) Hour of Graduate Credit will be available through Ashland University upon successful completion of requirements.
